

AMERICA'S FUTURE DEPENDS ON GOING INTO PEACE LEAGUE

This is What Gov. Cox Tells New York Audience

LEAGUE WOULD BE UNIVERSAL PANACEA

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Governor Cox of Ohio delivered his league of nations message to a great audience in Madison Square Garden tonight and, emphasizing business and economic considerations, declared that America's successful future depends upon entrance into the league at the earliest possible moment.

Willingness to make "some compromise upon league reservations" was declared by the Democratic presidential candidate. He reiterated that he would accept "helpful" reservations. If elected, he said, he "would lift this issue out of politics by effecting a result which will insure the entrance of the United States into the league with the idea of perfecting it and obtaining for ourselves the benefits which will be derived."

Governor Cox's speech closing his Atlantic coast campaign and climaxed a day of reception and luncheons and events, stressed agricultural, industrial, banking and other arguments for American participation in the league.

"The most serious depression the country has ever witnessed," was predicted by the nominee if the league cause was lost. Business depression already, he declared, has grown intense as a result of Senator Harding's statements on his league attitude.

League universal panacea. Reiterating the financial rehabilitation, credit and power together with increased sources resulting from disarmament, would flow from the league's success, Governor Cox declared:

"I go into the league our financial power will guarantee that we shall never have to send an American army to fight in Europe. If we meet the opportunity that calls to us, we can write the word 'American' across the page of the Twentieth Century history in letters of light."

Another promise made by Governor Cox was that realizing necessity for re-forming federal agencies, he would not hesitate to call upon any man for aid, regardless of politics.

"The United States government will be called upon next year to expend between four and five billion dollars," he said. This is an amount several times greater than the disbursements of any private corporation in the country.

I believe in team work. I recognize the evils that have come thru bitter partisanship accounted by the senatorial oligarchy defeat the treaty. My effort will, therefore, be to overcome this condition and I shall not hesitate to call on any, be he Democrat or Republican, Independent or Progressive if he will serve his country at this time of stress."

Christenson now is on furlough and military authorities are making efforts to locate him and advise him to be on his guard.

It is believed that the escaped soldiers are headed for Chicago. The fourth prisoner joined another group of prisoners working at the camp and told a guard what had happened and a search was immediately started for the missing men.

WILSON MIGHT AS WELL BE CANDIDATE

So Declares Charles E. Hughes in Connecticut Speech—Mr. Cox Has Not Changed His Position

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—Woodrow Wilson might as well be the Democratic candidate for president again this year as Governor Cox, Charles E. Hughes declared in an address to the league of nations here tonight.

"How vain it is to say that Mr. Cox is running for president, and not Mr. Wilson," Mr. Hughes exclaimed, adding:

"The time has now passed for efforts to placate an autocratic executive. If Mr. Cox is going to party company and is opposed to Article 10 of the league covenant, why should he not frankly say that he favors its elimination?"

The stands of Governor Cox and President Wilson are identical to commit the United States to the league with Article 10 and only meaningless reservations. Neither the president nor the governor have changed their attitude in this respect and all insinuations and declarations to the contrary are misstatements, he added.

"The young men and women of the country should be even more deeply interested in this critical contest than other Americans for the issues are the issues of the future."

"They will determine the future influences and greatness of the United States in the councils of the nations. They will determine our moral force in all the great pending contests of right with which the world is already quick."

"I believe that the young men and women of the country will see the vision of opportunity which now presents itself and will rally to the support of the perpetuation of the high ideals for which we fought in the great war."

SENATOR JOHNSON ISSUES STATEMENT ON PEACE LEAGUE

No Agreement With Harding Supporters on Question

SAYS HE STANDS WITH HARDING

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Senator Hiram Johnson in a statement issued tonight at headquarters of the Republican national committee declared there can be no agreement upon the league issue between himself and supporters of Senator Harding who say the Republican candidate will take the United States into the league of nations.

"Mr. Harding has said if elected he will not take this country into the league, that he has turned his back upon it and seeks not interpretation but rejection of it," he declared. "Some gentlemen supporting Mr. Harding say that notwithstanding this plain declaration he will take the United States into the league. Between these gentlemen and men of my belief there can be no unity of purpose, no agreement upon the league issue, I stand with Senator Harding, I accept as conclusive his emphatic declaration. His words upon the issue, not the words of those who are for the league are all controlling."

"Our first and fundamental maxim should be never to entangle ourselves in the broils of Europe."

The senator made no speeches during the day, but in elaborating his comment on the Brantino interview he gave out several quotations from Thomas Jefferson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson which he said had a direct bearing on the whole league issue. He called attention to this fact that it was ninety seven years ago tomorrow that Jefferson wrote to Monroe:

"The following he quoted from a speech by Cleveland on December 8, 1885:

"We have foreborne from taking part in any controversy between foreign states, but have left to every nation the exclusive conduct and management of its own affairs."

His quotation from President Wilson was taken from a newspaper report of the President's words on May 6, 1914, and was as follows:

"America should lead her own life. We cannot form alliances with those who are not going our way. We need not and we should not form alliances with any nation in the world."

WILSON SAID LEAGUE CHANGE WOULD EMBARRASS

Senator Harding Says President so Told Senators

RULE OF JUSTICE RATHER THAN FORCE

MARION, O., Oct. 23.—Alluding for the first time to the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer over the former's Paris plan in maintaining European peace, Senator Harding said tonight that the version of the president's words recently published in this country and attributed to Premier Bratiano of Roumania served to throw new light on the real character of Article 1. The controversy as to the exact language used by Mr. Wilson was not itself discussed by the Republican nominee who said in reply to a question that it was not his dispute. He added, however, that "the belated testimony of the Roumanian premier is very interesting by way of confirming the president's objections to amending the league covenant."

"The president said to several senators continued Mr. Harding definitely that any amendment would lead to demands by Roumania and other small nations with attending embarrassment."

"All this emphasizes our objection to the covenant as written. Clearly the supreme council trespassed the rights of the small nations and then set about to maintain the existing order of things by the rule of force. It has been the Republican purpose all along to establish a world association for the rule of justice rather than force."

Committee to Amend Support.

"Clearly Europe understands that which we are coming to know that the league as written commits America to the armed support of the four great powers in maintaining the integrity of their enlarged dominions whenever attacked from without. This is why America will vote its unalterable hostility to Article 10."

"When that is done we may seek a new understanding, one which will hold us unmortgaged to Europe and the Orient."

The senator made no speeches during the day, but in elaborating his comment on the Brantino interview he gave out several quotations from Thomas Jefferson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson which he said had a direct bearing on the whole league issue. He called attention to this fact that it was ninety seven years ago tomorrow that Jefferson wrote to Monroe:

Len Small, it is understood, is to have the endorsement of the Illinois Anti-Saloon league. This should quiet the fears of some voters who have not been familiar with the facts about Mr. Small's private life and public career.

Senator Reed of Missouri doesn't seem to have lost all his influence because a certain faction in the Democratic party has sought to put him out of public life. Fifteen thousand people assembled in the coliseum in Kansas City to hear the Missouri senator. They didn't agree with him on all his utterances but his stand in opposition to the league of nations was roundly cheered by a very large percentage of the big audience present.

WHITE HOUSE PICKETING

Most everybody will agree with this from the National Republican:

No one, on any provocation, should be permitted to picket the White House, or, for that matter, the Capitol, with banners denunciatory of the executive or legislative branches of government. Both branches of government should be permitted to function without attempts to awe by physical demonstrations, full of possibility of public disorder. If an attempt should be made to assassinate the President, or bomb the Capitol, the fomenters of and participants in such demonstrations could legally be held praiseworthy. Public questions in this country should be settled by argument and not by abuse or threats.

In Len Small's home preference in the primary election 780 Republican votes were cast and all but nine of them were for Len Small. Those figures tell very definitely what the folks at home think of the Republican candidate for governor.

GOMPERTS AND COOLIDGE

Samuel Gompers is devoting most of his public utterances to attacking Gov. Coolidge for his stand in the Boston police strike, when he declares that "There is no right, at any time, for anybody, to strike against the public safety." That position has been so widely endorsed that the Massachusetts governor will not feel badly about the Gompers line of attack.

Judge Kenesaw Landis declares he is going to take on active part in investigating the illicit sales of liquor in Chicago. He evidently believes that there has been collusion between the city police authorities and federal agents, and he is to sift the matter to the bottom.

This announcement from the Judge will not be at all pleasing to the bootleggers, for they know from experience that there will be something doing when Judge Landis starts out in this serious way.

MR. ROBINSON'S RECORD

When a public officer seeks reelection on the basis of his record and when that record stands in opposition to the striking miners in- spection, the candidate has a pretty good platform. That is the case with Carl E. Robinson, the Republican nominee for state's attorney. Mr. Robinson has served the county earnestly and honestly thru a four year period. He has shown himself to be a prosecuting attorney with ability and with a desire to measure up fully to the duties of his office as imposed by the law.

A CRITICAL TIME FOR ENGLAND

Lloyd George is now in a position where he must fight or surrender to the striking miners of England. There doesn't seem to be any middle course. The chances are that before he permitted himself to get in this position, the premier had a pretty good line on public sentiment and knows just what support he can expect from parliament and the public.

READY TO SERVE THE COUNTY

When the Republicans of this county nominated J. E. Osborne for membership in the county board they chose a man who has an honest desire to serve his county. Mr. Osborne has definite ideals of public service and if elected Nov. 2 his constant motto in public office will be not what he can get but what he can give. He is a strong advocate of the "Good Roads Now" program and while he believes in hard roads, he also realizes that it will be many years before hard surfaced roads are obtained in any large way. Meanwhile he believes that land owners and tenants and citizens generally should unite in a program which will result in well drained, well graded, well dragged roads.

IS CLEAN AND COMPETENT

Frank Wanamaker, Republican candidate for circuit clerk, is a young man who is qualified to fill that office if elected. He is a young man whose record will stand the closest inspection. After completing work in the public schools and holding clerical positions, he took a course at Brown's Business College, from which he graduated. Mr. Wanamaker also took a correspondence school law course for a two year period, and in other ways also has given evidence of the right kind of ambition. He saw service in the world war and can be listed as a candidate who is clean and competent.

THE DOCTORS WON'T LIKE IT

The Chamber of Commerce in Peoria is seeking to interest physicians and other professional men. The organization has offered to maintain an all night central office where all calls for physicians are to be received, the office presumably having knowledge at all times where physicians can be found.

It is not likely that this proposal will be accepted, for the average physician, at least after he had reached mature years, is not at all anxious to be located after office hours, or required to leave his home for night calls. The Peoria business men had better work out some other scheme for enlisting the co-operation of their professional brethren.

"DISASTROUS" EFFECTS OF PROHIBITION

The "disastrous" effects of prohibition in the United States continue to be seen on all hands, the Christian Science Monitor says, but nowhere, perhaps, more clearly, even brazenly, than in prison returns. Thus, the annual census of the population of the prisons in Massachusetts to September 30, 1920, shows that the steady increase reported in the first three months has continued, with the result that, in fifteen months, the prison population of the State has decreased some 4 per cent. The greatest decline is seen in the reformatory for women, the population of which is today less by 47 per cent than it was fifteen months ago; whilst the population of the state farm had been cut in half. Four county prisons have been closed altogether. Two others are still open, but empty; whilst four more, with 296 cells, have only thirty-nine inmates between them.

Rippling Rhymes By Wait Mason

BETTER DAYS.
For long, long months we've lived to spend, but now our orgy sees it end, and better days begin; the man who has a bunch of bones now asks himself, in stentor tones, "Why should I blow them in?" Why feed my money to the cows when yonder savings bank allows a seemly interest rate? Too long, too long I've thrown away the shining plunks I drew as pay, and hit a gaudy gait. And now the merchant princes rise, and say to clerks and kindred guys, "Our prices must come down; so let's reduce some picayunes on every pair of pantaloons, and every velvet gown." And all the hungry profiteers are doubtless filled with sorrowful fears, as they size up their rolls; doomed is the graft they long have held, the easy marks have all been belted, and they must hunt their holes. An end to profiteering crimes would some, I've said, in countless rhymes, and many a deathless screed, when people, sane again once more, refused to purchase at the store the junk they did not need. And now that happy day has come, or all the signs are on the bum, and all the omens punk; and Father, when he draws his wage, won't seek the marts, in noble rage, to blow his bottom plunk.

CRISIS REMAINS IN TEACHERS SITUATION

National Committee of Chamber of Commerce Says Crisis Has Not Passed—Salaries Smaller Than Artisans and Laborers.

NEW YORK.—(By The Associated Press.)—The salaries, training and experience of public school teachers in the United States are declared to be "inadequate" by the National Committee of Chamber of Commerce cooperation with the Public Schools. Despite recent salary increases, the committee asserts that the crisis has not been passed.

These conclusions are drawn in a summary of a survey of the schools of 354 cities conducted by the committee, which is composed of 32 secretaries of chambers of commerce and 33 superintendents of schools.

"The thoughtful citizen needs to ask himself," declared Dr. George W. Strayer of Columbia University, chairman of the committee, "in the light of the returns presented by our inquiry, questions like the following: Can teachers in our community have a comfortable place to live, good food and decent clothes for the amount of money which we pay them? Are the teachers who work in our schools able, on the salary paid to them, to make provision against the liabilities of illness and old age? Do the teachers in our cities have salaries sufficient to enable them to buy books, to subscribe to magazines, to enjoy music, to travel, to continue their professional study and otherwise to lead the type of life which makes them the kind of men and women than can be most helpful to my boys and girls? Would I want my son and daughter to go into teaching? Is the recognition given to teachers, in terms of salary, in my city sufficient to attract the ablest of the young men and women in our community?" The replies to these inquiries, in view of the findings, must all be in the negatives, says Dr. Strayer.

Salaries in 1913-14.
In 1913-14 one half of the men elementary teachers in cities with a population of from 8,000 to 30,000, the report shows received less than $946. In 1919-20, one-half of the same group were receiving less than $1,262, an advance of $316 or 33 per cent. Meanwhile, it was stated, the cost of living had advanced 104 per cent.

American cities paid high school principals an average of $2,500 a year while elementary school principals received an average of $2,839. "Many of the salaries paid in these positions requiring the management of complex organizations and skillful leadership," the report points out, "are not enough to secure a competent secretary, let alone to be considered adequate pay for the principal." A summary of the survey issued by the committee says: "The survey also discloses that the salaries of artisans and laborers throughout the country are much higher on the average than those of teachers. These low salaries have resulted in a serious teacher shortage throughout the country. The demand for teachers is so great that students leave normal schools when their courses have been but half completed. An alarmingly large proportion of the teachers as a result are emergency teachers lacking in proper training for their work.

"Reports from the cities of this survey show that 50 per cent of the teachers in the elementary schools of American cities have had less than six and one-third years of training beyond the eighth grade; that 50 per cent of the junior high school teachers have had less than seven years training beyond, and that 50 per cent of the senior high school teachers have had less than eight and one-half years.

"Chambers of Commerce in every state have assumed the leadership in conducting local campaigns to bring the seriousness of the situation to public attention and organize community forces for improving conditions."

"Trumpet Island"

A thrilling and spectacular play—From the story by Gouverneur Morris—Edited by Lillian and George Randolph Chester—The story of three lives—it's different from mother plays—Something you will keep talking about for a long time. Three lives, entirely different and yet dependent upon each other, is the theme around which this strange narrative is written. It is a picture of contrasts wherein the beggar is able to give a fortune to another and must himself live and die in abject poverty. The scenic backgrounds are different from those of other productions. Thrills and spectacular scenes follow in rapid succession and are emphasized by bright spots of comedy and love.

Majorie Rambeau

The famous Broadway actress in the tremendous A. H. Woods stage success.

For only rarely does the screen bring a picture which stands forth triumphantly above the rest—or a characterization whose appeal imprints it indelibly upon the heart—or a genius who moulds a masterpiece which is an inspiration.

We consider "The Fortune Teller" the biggest picture we have ever had. We consider that the star of "The Fortune Teller"—Majorie Rambeau, portrays the most remarkable interpretation of motherhood ever seen on a screen. We consider if you miss this great picture you will always regret it.

What You'll See in

"THE FORTUNE TELLER"

THE underground methods of a fortune teller in securing information regarding clients.

HOW the fatal ace of spades foretold a tragedy in the home of an elderly scientist—and the sinister influence on his beautiful young wife.

GLIMPSES behind the scenes in circus life—and why the strong man beat up the brutal owner.

A STARTLING demonstration of a mother's psychic power—and its influence in making a real man of her son.

WHAT happened when "The Uninvited Guest" made love to the scientist's beautiful wife and the husband surprised them.

MAGNETIC Marjorie Rambeau—the greatest emotional actress of the stage and screen—in gripping scenes epitomizing the power of mother-love.

HOW a jealous husband trapped his fascinating young wife into a compromising situation with an unscrupulous adventurer.

CIRCUS-DAY in a small town—and the ups and downs—joys and sorrows of a circus performer.

HOW a wronged wife—cast out by her husband—became a dorelict and the slave of a brute who tried to kill everything good in her—and after drinking the drops of life was regenerated by the psychic power of mother-love.

THE most powerful and heart-stirring renunciation scene ever shown on the screen—a woman who had been wronged and had gone down into the depths, and then reclaimed by the power of mother-love, sacrificing her mother-heart to save the self-respect of her son.

WRONGFULLY accused by her tyrannical husband—her child taken from her by an unjust law—this woman became the slave of a drunken brute. When she heard the all-compelling voice of mother-love calling to her, she threw aside the shackles of a degrading life. When Providence led her to her boy who needed her love, she rose to heights that only a mother can attain. See Marjorie Rambeau in the most soul-stirring and heart-moving dramatic moments ever portrayed on the screen.

A FURTHER REPLY.

By Carl E. Robinson.

Again I am compelled to answer certain charges made by E. P. Brockhouse, Democratic Candidate for State's Attorney, and again I express my regret at having to do so.

For reasons not difficult to understand at this particular time, Mr. Brockhouse seems determined to lay on the State's Attorney the responsibility for what he calls mispending the County's funds. He complains about expenditures for oil that went on the roads of Morgan County, made or contracted beyond the amount appropriated and suggests that more would not have been spent than was appropriated if the commissioners had known the law. How does he know what the commissioners knew in 1919 and what they did not know? One of them is dead and another is no longer a member of the County Board. How can Mr. Brockhouse tell now what these men knew about the law then and what they did not know?

Concerning the fact that the various County Boards have paid to attorneys other than the State's Attorney county money for services, allow me to say that this has never been done with my advice or encouragement. On several occasions it was done without my knowledge. Members of some of the County Boards have not wanted to come to the present State's Attorney for advice. Perhaps the reason may be found in the fact that two of the Board were then Democrats and a Democratic lawyer instead of the State's Attorney was consulted. I have never asked the County Board nor suggested to them to hire any lawyer to assist me in any matter. And with the exception of one case now pending (and this was done without my advice or suggestion) the County has never paid one cent for any advice given the present State's Attorney in the trial of cases. Persons interested in the prosecution or the present State's Attorney himself has borne this expense. Of course if the County Board for political or other reasons without the knowledge of the State's Attorney consults other lawyers the State's Attorney cannot prevent it.

If the County Board went to considerable expense for help in the County Clerk's office when a new County Clerk was elected allow me to say that this contract was drawn and signed by the County Board without my advice or suggestion and even without my knowledge.

Reference is made to payments to the State's Attorney in addition to his salary. If Mr. Brockhouse had told all of the facts in connection with this matter he would have stated that these payments were made upon the presentation of a proof and receipts for money advanced for the County by the State's Attorney. For example the item of $651.70 was advanced by the State's Attorney in an effort to stop bootlegging. He took receipts for this amount and when the County Board met showed his receipts and received payment without interest. If Mr. Brockhouse had wanted to be fair in this matter he could have told the facts and thereby avoided making the unfair impression that the State's Attorney had received money that he was not honestly entitled to. But he seems to be making a special effort to injure the reputation of another man in order to get a public office.

He complains about money paid to witnesses in criminal cases, detectives, etc. Every cent in this way was spent in an effort to stop bootlegging and other lawlessness in Morgan county. Does he think that bootlegging and other crimes should not be checked as much as possible or is he merely finding fault in an effort to advance his political interests? He suggests that formerly it has not been necessary to employ detectives, etc. However, if he will take the trouble to look back a few years, and no further back than the time when he was County Judge, he will discover that he is mistaken. Like him I believe in it only on rare occasions but sometimes it seems to be the only way to meet the situation.

This is another attempt of Mr. Brockhouse, as a candidate and not a citizen, to leave an unfair impression. In some instances he states only a part of the facts. In others he merely assumes that money was spent with my consent and advice when as a matter of fact I knew nothing of it and could know nothing of it. He even presumes to know whether the commissioners of a year or two years ago were advised of the law when it is an impossibility for him to know it. The purpose of it all is to get votes, regardless of how unjustly another man's reputation may be injured. Let me once more express my regret at having publicly to correct and explain the statements of a political opponent.

MRS. MILLER IS FOR G. O. P. TICKET

Writes Pointed Letter to Chairman of Democratic Woman's Committee.

When Mrs. Flo Jamison Miller known to many men and women of Illinois received a letter from Mrs. Howard Willson asking her to support James Hamilton Lewis for the governorship of Illinois this is the way she replied.

Monticello, Ill., Oct. 17, 1920
Mrs. Chairman T. Willson,
State Chairman Illinois Democratic Woman's Committee,
407 Fine Arts Building,
Chicago, Illinois

My Dear Mrs. Willson:
Your letter of the 15th inviting me to allow my name to be used as a supporter of James Hamilton Lewis for Governor has been received, and I hasten to reply. First, Mrs. Willson, I want to say I have studied the platforms and the principles of both parties for many years. I have found the principles of the Republican party to be the most constructive, most progressive and most American, and hence I am a believer in those principles and a supporter of that party.

When the United States faced a crisis in its government in the '60's it was the Republican party that came to the rescue and saved the nation. We are today facing another crisis and I am sure it will be met and the government again saved for America, (not Europe) by the Republican party. Above personal prejudice, personal likes and dislikes must stand the Republican principles, and I can see no better reason to change my belief in those principles because some candidate or candidates do not meet my personal likes, than I can see for a member of a church to change her religious affiliation because the minister does not please her. Believing Republicanism stands for America first, America always and being a loyal American I must refuse to forsake my own party and follow after "strange gods".

I shall mark by ballot on Nov. 2nd with a cross in the circle at the top of the Republican column and so register my belief in Loyalty, in Americanism and Republicanism.

Sincerely yours,
Flo Jamison Miller.

NOTICE W. C. T. U. MEMBERS

All present members of the Jacksonville W. C. T. U., and also those who at any time have been connected with the work of the late Mrs. Sarah J. Cocking, president emerita, are invited to pay her honor by sitting in a body at the Grace M. E. church tomorrow. Any W. C. T. U. workers in the city and who are not connected with the local union are also invited to be present.

For thirty-five years Mrs. Cocking stood at the front for the principles for which the W. C. T. U. stands. Few women in the state know the work in all its departments better than she. Years ago she organized and taught a Sunday school in the old Lindsay building on North Main street. She also went to the county farm and held religious meetings. Until very recently she was superintendent of the evangelistic work at the county jail, and led the Sunday afternoon meetings.

During the past year Mrs. Cocking has not been able to devote so much strength and energy to the work as in previous years, but her interest never abated. She was made president emerita for life by the Union. "Her works do follow her."

HARVARD PROVED TOO MUCH FOR CENTRE

The Southern Team Although Defeated Put Up a Wonderful Game Against Their Stronger Rivals, Holding Them Even in the First Half.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23.—Harvard football finesse, weight and endurance, triumphed over Centre College in a gridiron game of the most thrilling and sensational inter-sectional games played in many years.

Although defeated 31 to 14, the Danville, Ky., collegians, departed for the south late tonight with the praises of the football experts ringing in their ears, for they gave a wonderful exhibition of the game.

The "Praying Colonels" as the southern players are known in their home section matched effort for effort with the Crimson and at the close of the first two periods had fought themselves into an even break with Harvard, the score standing 14 to 14.

The exertion and suspense of such a grueling battle under strange conditions and environment told however, in the closing half of the conflict, and the power and finish of the Harvard team triumphed over the desperate efforts of Captain "Bo" McMillin and his team mates.

That an institution with an enrollment of about 300 students and with but one coach should be able to match an historic and established opponent through the first thirty minutes of play, stamps the Centre College eleven as one worthy of all the praise which had preceded it.

That the Harvard players realized the really remarkable spirit and play of the Southerners was demonstrated by a scene which took place almost immediately after the game, when the teams met in the Harvard training quarters. There Captain Horween of the winning eleven went up to Captain McMillin and congratulating him upon his team and wonderful individual playing, offered the ball used in the game as a trophy.

McMillin, dust covered and well high exhausted by his efforts, burst into tears and refused the ball with the remark that "to the victor belongs the spoils."

It was in the fateful final thirty minutes of the game that the Crimson machine really demonstrated its latent and powerful attack and defense and once it was working smoothly Centre's last chance to win passed away.

Centre Players Hold Over.

McMillin, Weaver, King and Roberts all proved their ability more than to hold their own with the best of the home team in forward passing, broken field running and tackling as well as in diagnosing their opponents' play. But the Centre offense had been developed far beyond its team defense and the southerners were unable to check the steady grinding team attack of Harvard or to follow the ball with the alertness that marked the work of the Crimson.

While Harvard's attack was apparently irresistible from a Centre standpoint, the Crimson was early in the game baffled by its opponents' overhead offense and broken field running. The broader gridiron education of Harvard, however, enabled them to solve this puzzle early in the third period, while Centre never found the way to check the mass drive and concealed play that Harvard developed into almost season-end form in the closing session. Centre players had come on the field after the teams customary prayers in the dressing rooms with Coach Moran and President W. A. Gifford on the college.

Defeat did not imply failure of their prayer one of them said after the contest, as the team prayed not to win, but that its members may do their best.

CHICAGO CAPTURES SPECTACULAR GAME

Defeat the Fast and Tricky Iowa Team by Score of 10-0. Maroon's Now in Race for Conference Championship.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The University of Chicago entered the ranks of contenders for the western conference football championship today by defeating the light but tricky Iowa team in a spectacular game 10 to 0.

The defeat virtually eliminated Iowa from the "Big Ten" race.

After jamming thru from the three yard line for a touchdown in the first period, Chicago played a defensive game and kept its goal line out of danger, although Iowa threatened until the final whistle.

Iowa excelled in the open game, the forward passing of the Devine brothers keeping the big crowd on its feet.

In the first period Chicago worked a 30 yard pass, Crisler to Jackson bringing the ball to the twenty yard line. Then a fifteen yard penalty brought the ovals to the Hawkeye's 5-yard line. The Maroons failed at three attempts to pierce the line and on the fourth Tatge, the Chicago quarterback squirmed his way over for a touchdown. Jackson kicked goal.

Iowa in the final three periods, played a snappy open game. On three successive attempts the Hawkeyes gained five yards on passes. Once they had the ball on Chicago's 25 yard line only to lose because of a fumble. In the third period, Aubrey Devine the Iowa quarterback, tried a field goal from the 55 yard line, but missed by five feet. Bobby Cole, who substituted for Hanisch in the fourth period booted a field goal from the 15-yard line for Chicago's second score.

AMES SATURDAY

Lawrence, Kans., Oct. 23.—A seventy-five yard run by Little, Kansas half back in the opening of the first period scored the lone touchdown in the Kansas-AMES game here today which ended 7 to 0 for Kansas. WEST VIRGINIA FALLS

BEFORE YALE 24-0

New Haven, Oct. 23.—Yale trounced West Virginia 24 to 0 this afternoon in a slow game. The play was largely in the territory of the visitors who were not as formidable either in their line of aerial work as had been expected.

JACKSONVILLE WINS FROM PEORIA MANUAL

Alexander Skirts Visitors' Left End In Closing Minutes of Final Period for Touchdown—Jacksonville Outplayed Peoria Manual.

Alexander, quarter back of the Jacksonville high school team, injected into the game in the second half by Coach Mitchell, scored a touchdown in the closing minutes of the final period, Saturday afternoon, giving Jacksonville a 6 to 0 win over Peoria Manual.

The touchdown came at the close of one of the most bitterly fought contests ever seen on Illinois field. The field was a sea of water and mud and neither team could show its real strength as straight football ruled the day.

When one considers the condition of the field and the slippery condition of the ball, the game was remarkably free from fumbles until the final quarter. Then both teams fumbled frequently and it looked for a time that this might lose Jacksonville the game or else result in a tie score.

Throughout the game Jacksonville outplayed the visitors who looked to be heavier by several pounds to the man. Except in the final quarter most of the playing was done in Peoria's territory, but the locals did not have the necessary punch to put the ball over.

Coch Mitchell's squad proved to be excellent mud horses and did remarkable work considering that most of them had never before played a game in the rain. The team had lots of fight and Jacksonville forwards easily out-charged their opponents while the backfield men hit the line with terrific force.

The play of the entire line was good. H. Cockin playing his first game at end gave a great exhibition of tackling as did Capt. Gard on the other end. Arter, Hunt and Struck, Sanders and Alexander ripped holes in the visitors' defense.

For Peoria Werner, Gimle and Blotner did excellent offensive work and Gimle and Werner did good work on defense.

Peoria Kicked Off.

At the opening of the game Peoria kicked to Jacksonville. The ball was immediately punted back and then both teams took the ball repeatedly on downs. Finally Jacksonville just before the close of the period worked the ball down to the visitors' three yard line.

At the beginning of the second quarter with the goal to gain on the fourth down, Peoria braced and took the ball and kicked it out of danger. Little advantage could be gained by either team during the remainder of the quarter, the half closing with the ball in Manual's possession in the center of the field.

Jacksonville kicked to Peoria at the beginning of the third quarter. Peoria fumbled for a loss of ten yards and then kicked. Jacksonville with line plays carried the ball steadily down the field and Alexander tried a drop kick which failed and Peoria put the ball in play on the 20 yard line when the whistle blew ending the quarter.

When the fourth quarter started Jacksonville tried a forward pass which Goebel missed by inches back of the goal line and the ball went over.

Alexander Scores.

Peoria put the ball in play on her own 20 yard line. Peoria fumbled and Jacksonville recovered the ball. Alexander carried the ball around the visitors' left and dodging several tacklers and making the lone touchdown of the game. Try at goal failed.

Jacksonville kicked and penalized for offside. Peoria then took the ball and fighting hard, tried to tie the score but fumbles and good defensive work by Jacksonville warded off the score. Jacksonville kicked and the ball was in Peoria's possession at the close of the game. The lineups:

ILLINOIS WINS HARD GAME FROM MICHIGAN

Maise and Blue Failure to Kick Goal After Touchdown Virtually Eliminated Them From the Western Conference Championship Race.

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 23.—By the narrow margin of a goal after touchdown, Illinois virtually eliminated Michigan from the Western Inter-collegiate championship race this afternoon, defeating the Maise and Blue 7 to 6.

Michigan scored its touchdown in the second period on a brilliant 75-yard run by Dunn, quarterback, who intercepted a forward pass to get the ball. His attempt to goal however, went wide of the posts.

A pretty forward pass paved the way for Illinois' touchdown in the third period. The ball was in Michigan territory almost thruout the quarter the Illini pushing Michigan back steadily. Reaching the 20-yard line, Walquist, the Illinois right half back tossed to Ralph Fletcher, substituted for Left Half Back Peden, who carried the ball over.

Fletcher then kicked goal. The Wolverines fought hard to save the game in the final period. Several changes were made in the line-up and Illinois was placed on the defensive. Stokette, who displaced Nelson at full back attempted a field goal from Illinois' 48-yard line, but the ball fell short and Illinois carried it back. The game ended a few minutes later with the ball in Illinois' possession in the center of the field.

WILL REVIVE OLD TIME RIVER TRAFFIC

Boat Service, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati to New Orleans to be established — Was Abandoned Thirty Years Ago — St. Louis — Minneapolis.

Cincinnati, O.—River traffic from Pittsburgh to New Orleans will be re-established Nov. 6 when the steamer Queen City leaves this port for New Orleans. A transit company operating between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati will transfer cargoes and passengers bound for New Orleans to the Cincinnati boat.

It has been a quarter of a century since there was continuous river service from Cincinnati to New Orleans and thirty years or more since the last through freight and passenger-carrying boat left Pittsburgh for the lower reaches of the Mississippi. The Queen City's voyage will be its inaugural trip to the gulf. If support is received from shippers in the scores of cities and villages on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, it is expected the river will see a revival, in some measure of its old time prosperity.

The Queen City is now on the ways at Cairo preparatory to being put into commission for the trip. The company which owns and operates it has been literally swamped with applications for cargo space and while her passenger-carrying accommodations were long since bespoken. Assurances have been received from Chambers of Commerce and other business organizations in cities on the two rivers that they will co-operate in making the traffic successful. Promoters of the service say that freight can be conveyed from Ohio river cities and towns to New Orleans at a far cheaper rate and equally as fast as the railroads can carry it considering the usual delays that railroad traffic entails.

Upper Mississippi Traffic. Re-establishment of transportation on the upper Mississippi, between St. Louis and Minneapolis is planned for the newly-created waterways division of the Mississippi Valley Association, which recently was merged with the Mississippi Valley Waterways Association.

Light draft equipment now in service on the lower Mississippi will be used for the new route, as soon as other equipment is available for the St. Louis-New Orleans line, according to James E. Smith, head of the waterways division.

A legislative program which the association plans to submit to the coming session of congress includes provision for the early completion of a 6-foot channel from St. Louis to Minneapolis; of a 9-foot channel in the Illinois river from Utica to Grafton and the Mississippi from Grafton to Cairo.

Illinois Woman's College announces the following artists who will appear in the series of 1920-21.

DAILY WAGE SHOWS GREAT INCREASE

Pittsburgh.—The average daily wage of every person employed in Allegheny County, one of the country's greatest industrial centers, increased 70.2 per cent in three years, according to James F. Woodward, State Secretary of Internal Affairs. The per capita daily wage for 1919 was $5.08 while that of 1916 was $2.85 Mr. Woodward said. He used the latter year for comparison because he said it was "fairly normal," whereas 1917 and 1918 were abnormal, owing to the war.

Altho production valuation during the war years was greater than in 1919, Mr. Woodward's figures showed wages had increased steadily from 1916 to $3.53 daily in 1917 and $4.71 in 1918 to $5.08 in 1919. Production value in 1919 amounted to $1,900,226,400 as compared with $1,619,322,200 in 1916, an increase of 17.3 per cent. In 1917 and 1918 production value reached well over the $2,000,000,000 mark.

The per capita wealth of the county was $2,580, or twelve times the average per capita wealth of the United States.

TO OBSERVE DATE OF PILGRIM'S LANDING

This year marks the forty-ninth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim fathers and all over America the significance of this momentous event is being recognized. Within the past two weeks a celebration commemorating the part which England played in this movement has taken place. The British people have elaborate plans drawn up for a great Tercentenary program. The president of the United States has directed the American people to take cognizance of this event.

In Jacksonville and Morgan county the Congregational churches, which are descendants of the Pilgrim church, will, with all other Congregational churches all over the land, hold suitable recognition of the anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

On Sunday evening the Rev. W. E. Collins, minister of the Congregational church of this city, will speak of the contributions which the Pilgrims have made to the life of America and will show that in government, religion, education and community life the Pilgrims have had a major influence. Tomorrow evening the subject will be the educational contribution of the Pilgrims. To these meetings all those interested are invited.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE ROUND TABLE MEETS

First Session of Current Year Held at Home of Mrs. C. N. Priest Saturday Afternoon—Miss Janette Powell the Leader of the Afternoon.

The Domestic Science Round Table of the Jacksonville Women's club held its first meeting of the current year Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. N. Priest, 1203 West State street. In spite of the disagreeable weather there was a splendid attendance. The spacious home of Mrs. Priest was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers.

The hostesses of the afternoon were Mesdames Ernest Sovern, J. J. Reeve, H. A. Perrin, George Tremblett, H. C. Woltman, Eb Spink, G. A. Sieber, J. K. C. Pierson, C. E. Williamson, Henry Gebel, William Winchester, C. C. Riden, Clarence York, C. Hombrough, L. E. Wyatt, W. B. Rogers, T. Stout, Robert Shoemaker, L. B. Turner, Carl York, Leroy Potter and Miss Edna Stout.

The chairman, Mrs. J. J. Reeve, presided and introduced the secretary, Mrs. J. H. Mallen, who read the minutes of the previous meeting. She then called on Mrs. O. F. Buffe, president of the Woman's club. Mrs. Buffe in a very happy manner expressed her appreciation of, and her faith in, the Round Table and what the members would accomplish the coming year.

Mrs. Reeve for the program committee said that the next meeting had not yet been definitely decided upon, but would be announced at the next meeting of the Woman's club. Mrs. Reeve then presented Miss Janette Powell as the speaker of the afternoon.

Miss Powell took for her subject "The Christmas Work Basket" and she handled her subject in a very interesting and entertaining manner. She said there are two kinds of gifts—those which are made and those which are bought, but it was only of those which are made that she spoke Saturday.

Miss Powell told of the many monstrous things made in the name of fancy work in the days of the past, the potato mashers that were gilded, the rolling pins painted and hair wreaths created etc. The speaker said that our ideas are changing and beauty is becoming a more elastic term, the ornate is giving place to the simple.

Miss Powell said: "Our work now is becoming more and more a combination of thought and skill. Things may be both beautiful and useful and give pleasure not only to the giver who makes them, but to the one who receives them."

Miss Powell had a beautiful collection of articles of various kinds which she explained and passed among the members of their inspection. She also gave suggestions of suitable gifts for children.

Miss Clara Cobb was then called upon and also gave a very interesting talk and showed some very beautiful things in the line of useful and fancy gifts.

At the close of the program the hostesses served refreshments, after which the club adjourned.

HAVE MOVED TO HOME IN CHAPIN

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Anderson Leave Farm After Long Residence There.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Anderson, who were married in January, 1892, located soon after that time on a farm north of Bethel. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Anderson removed to Chapin and the farm will now be operated by their oldest son, William. So all the years of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's married life have been spent on the one farm, and they are now giving it up to younger hands while they make more of ease at the Chapin home.

Back in 1892 the farm was the property of Alexander Anderson and it has been known as the Anderson homestead although it became a part of the French estate. In the earlier years Mr. Anderson in the operation of his farm had the good advice of his grandfather, George Anderson. After his death the farm passed to his daughter, Mrs. C. S. French, and the supervision was under the charge of Mr. and Mrs. French.

After their passing their daughter, Mrs. Rena French Kessinger, became the owner of the farm and the general supervision was in the hands of A. L. French.

Only recently A. C. Rice has come into the general management. It has been the lot of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson all through the years to have the most friendly relationships with the persons who owned the farm or those who directly represented them.

VISITED IN OHIO

Jacob Hoover from Chapin has just returned from a trip to Jackson, Ohio, to visit his old home that he had not been back to for fifty-one years. He did not find many people that he had known and the place had changed very much. While he was there, they had a rally and Warren G. Harding was there and spoke. On this occasion they had a barbecue and burgoo soup. They used 16,000 pounds of beef and 3,000 gallons of soup. In making the soup forty bushels of potatoes, eight barrels of carrots, about fifty bushels of tomatoes were used. A Mr. Sternberger owned the land where the rally was held. He had his name changed to Stevenson two years ago. This man not only furnished the land but he also gave them $16,000.00 in money to help pay the expenses. There were about 50,000 people there and Mr. Hoover says they sure did have a fine time.

On his way over to Ohio he stopped at Springfield and saw Mr. Cox and heard him speak for a while but did not listen to him long as he said about all he talked about was to abuse the Republicans. On the train between Springfield and Pana a lady that was sitting across the aisle from him was trying to heat some milk for her baby and in some way caught her clothes afire and Mr. Hoover and another man finally put the fire out. The lady was very thankful for what Mr. Hoover had done as she said he saved her life. A friend took him to see an old school mate near Portsmouth that he had not seen for fifty-one years, and on the way, they saw a tax-cab that carries the children to school, and in some way threw a little boy out. They came up just then and he got out and picked the boy up and found he was very badly injured and he was taken home. On the trip they drove through Camp Sherman which covers about 1000 acres of land and is covered with buildings that are going to wreck. There are about 700 soldiers at this camp. Mr. Hoover attended a party where they were giving a shower of presents to a cousin of his that he had never seen before. As he had no present he said if the bride would kiss the best looking man in the crowd he would give her a present, and she jumped up and kissed her husband and Mr. Hoover gave a dollar which caused a good deal of fun.

PRINCETON JUNIORS ENROLL IN ECONOMICS

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—More than 300 students in Princeton University, mostly juniors who have enrolled in the economics course, will have their photographs taken to be used in a card index by professors in the Department of Economics.

To help identify the students, each instructor will bring to the recitation rooms a small box bearing cards, on which will be the name, seat number and photograph of a student.

Professor Frank A. Fetter, head of the Department of Economics, said the teacher has been handicapped by not knowing each pupil by name wherever he meets him and that the proposed scheme should enable an instructor to get acquainted with all in his class within a few days.

This plan was used here with marked success in the Student Training Courses during the world war.

OF WHITE HALL MEETS

Matters With Relation to Future of the Post Given Attention at Meeting Thursday Night—Hostelry to Change Hands Nov. 1—Other News Notes.

White Hall, Oct. 22.—The American Legion held a meeting Thursday evening to prepare for the reception and burial of the body of Amos Walker, which is to arrive at New York on the 25th, according to advice from the government received by the father, Andrew Walker, residing on Higbee street. It is calculated that the remains should reach White Hall for funeral services on November 1st, and the Legion post will accord full military honors. The deceased was a member of the 30th Division, Company F, 2nd Battalion, 119th Regiment, and he was killed in action.

At this meeting the Legion post also considered matters with reference to the future of the post. The quarters are not such as become such an important organization and the support on part of the general public has been almost nil. An indebtedness hangs over the equipping of the present quarters. It is not the place of the soldier boys to solicit financial support from the public, and it is up to the local public to do something for them. In this respect White Hall is lagging behind.

The best thing yet suggested is a memorial building to provide for community activities such as a gathering place for the public, quarters for the soldiers, library rooms, public rest rooms and toilets. This can be done for about $40,000. Recently the town of Birdsboro, Penn., set a goal of $65,000 for such a memorial building, and 3,383 people pledged a total of $11,051. And Birdsboro is a town of only 3,500.

Mrs. A. L. McClay Offers Support. It was suggested at this meeting of the Legion post that there are people who are willing to contribute to a fund for a soldier memorial building, and one such prospect is Mrs. A. L. McClay, wife of the founder of the Greene county apple industry. Mrs. McClay is a war widow her husband having served in the Civil War, and his remains rest in the White Hall cemetery. Mrs. McClay only a few months ago informed the writer that she would be pleased to do something for either the G. A. R. post or the Legion post at White Hall, and since the Legion post is looking in a measure after the welfare of the G. A. R. post, it is the part of wisdom to give all public support to the Legion post. Mrs. McClay's attitude was made known to leading workers in the latter post, and they express willingness to participate in a campaign to bring the memorial building project to a realization. If the offer of the park board and the Griswolds is acceptable, the matter of site is at once provided without cost in the most commanding location in town.

In order to make the proposition permanently useful it is necessary to provide a mill tax for the purpose of maintenance. A two-mill tax can be voted on for each of the soldiers' memorial and of the public library, which would net about $5,000 per year in White Hall township. Suggested plans for such a structure are now in the hands of T. J. Grant, president of the park board.

Hotel Will Change Hands.

Hotel Stocks, the leading White Hall hostelry, will change hands November 1st, the furnishings having been purchased by W. P. Lindsey of Roodhouse. Mr. Lindsey was an aviator during the war, and with his return to private life he has settled down to peaceful pursuits with a magnanimity that is heartening to his many friends. His mother conducts the leading hotel at Roodhouse, and the family are experienced hotel people. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCauley, who retire, will return to Winchester, from where they came when they took over the Stocks a few years ago. They are most estimable people, and are widely known with the traveling public. Mr. McCauley states that if he intended to remain in the hotel business he would not leave White Hall.

The annual chicken pie dinner at the M. E. church on Thursday netted eighty dollars.

SOCIAL SERVICELEAGUE NOTES

At the Case Committee meeting on Monday afternoon the City Matron reported the case of the little girl who was run down by an auto the evening before, and several of the members agreed to assist in cheering up the small victim of what would seem to be an act of unpardonable carelessness. Fortunately the child was not dangerously hurt.

Miss Paterson was in Chicago on business for two or three days in the middle of the week and the services of Miss Palmer were again in demand. The office is fortunate this year in being able to call upon such an enthusiastic substitute.

Several of our regular subscribers, being possessed of two dollar bills which burned their pockets, have brought them up to the office instead of waiting for the November campaign to begin. It is an evidence in the work which is very encouraging to those who have it at heart.

On Friday afternoon the "office force" entertained a group of their friends at a "mending bee" which it is hoped may be made a monthly event during the winter. Forty pairs of well-darned stockings and a pleasant social time were the joint result. Among those present were Mrs. Lee Anglo, Miss Isabel Anderson, Mrs. Mollie King, Mrs. George Wengler and Mrs. Charles Whitman.

The October meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in the league rooms at 7:30 next Tuesday evening, October 26.

This is the first meeting of the new Board and much important business is to be transacted including the election of officers, financial plans for the year, the reorganization of committees, etc. The members of the Board are asked to make a special effort to be present.

OGLESBY'S SUPPORTERS FOR STRAIGHT TICKET

Senator Clarence M. Buck and Major Walter A. Rosenfield Declare They Are "100 Per Cent for Len Small."

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Advising all voters to "mark a cross in the publican party circle," State Senator Clarence F. Buck, of Monmouth who was campaign manager for John G. Oglesby before the primary, and Major Walter A. Rosenfield, of Rock Island, head of the Oglesby organization committee in the primary campaign, have both declared themselves to be firm supporters of the entire Republican State ticket.

Senator Buck advised state headquarters by telephone from Monmouth that he would be in Chicago next week to get into the campaign for the entire Republican ticket. He is a candidate for re-election in the Thirty-second senatorial district and since the primary has been campaigning the district to get it into shape to permit him to come to Chicago to aid in the state fight.

"We are 100 per cent for Len Small and the entire Republican state and national ticket," Senator Buck told state headquarters over the long distance telephone.

Major Rosenfield personally reported at headquarters and issued a statement characterizing the Democratic Dunne administration of state affairs as "disastrous to the people of the state" and saying that J. Hamilton Lewis was "not even the equal of Mr. Dunne in ability."

"In the recent primaries I was chairman of the organization committee for the Oglesby campaign. I did all I could to secure the nomination of John G. Oglesby."

"His opponent has been declared the winner and is now the candidate of the party. It must be borne in mind that in any primary active Republicans must make a choice of candidates. It must also be borne in mind that only one man can win."

"If Oglesby had been nominated we would have expected Mr. Small to support Mr. Oglesby, loyally and faithfully. With Mr. Small nominated the reverse is true. Mr. Oglesby's friends should loyally support Mr. Small."

"Mr. Small advises me that it is his ambition, not only to make his administration a credit to the party, but, also, at the end of four years to have the Republican party more strongly entrenched with the people than ever before. He does not desire a personal machine, but a party organization. I am assured that no promises of patronage have been made to anyone and that he has no enemies to punish."

"Dunne was elected governor by a split in the national party. His administration is still fresh in our minds. It was disastrous to the state. We were bankrupt. Lewis is not even the equal of Dunne in ability. In addition, he is credited with being closer to President Wilson than any other man in the United States."

"We should give the Democrats no quarter. We are opposed to Democratic rule in Washington. We should oppose the same rule in our state. No consolation should be given the Democrats by the election of any candidates on their ticket, even to the minor offices. The ballot is large and cumbersome. It contains approximately 350 names. The law is explicit in stating that election judges must throw out any ballot with improper marks on it or where the intent of the voter is not clear. Republicans should make up their minds to make a clean sweep at this election. The only sure way of doing this is to put a cross in the Republican circle on election day. This votes the straight Republican ticket."

Mr. Tellegen carries with him one of the most notable companies ever seen with a traveling organization, as one can realize after reading the following list of names in his support, which includes Lorne Aubler, Juliette Crosby, Helen Grayce, Marcelle Baguey, Kathryn Soward, Douglas S. Bright, George Deneubourg, Schuyler White and Russell Clark. Mr. Fischer stated that he is now negotiating with Jane Cowl and two other big stars in view of playing several of his other theatres and will also bring them to Jacksonville providing that the people of this city show him that they want these kind of plays. MAY USE CORN IN COAL'S PLACE

Iowa Farmers Declare High Price of Fuel May Cause Action.

Springfield Journal: The 1920 Iowa corn crop will be used in place of other fuel unless the present price of bituminous coal takes a sudden drop, according to J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau association. A delegation of farmers from Elwood, Ia., had previously called on him and informed him of the action decided upon by the farmers of their state.

The present price of soft coal in the neighborhood of Elwood is $20 a ton and added to this is the delivery charge of about $2.50 a ton, making the average ton of coal cost the farmers of Iowa about $22.50 a ton.

Compared to this is the fact that the elevators in this same locality are only paying 60 cents a bushel for corn. When the freight charges and other incidentals are deducted the corn nets the farmer but 50 cents. This brings the price of corn on the ear to $15.75 a ton. As corn possesses the same heat units as coal it becomes evident that the Iowa farmer can burn corn cheaper than he can coal and save the labor of hauling it.

A COMMUNICATION

Along about the middle of the nineteenth century, the Democrats tried, under the doctrine of "State's Rights," to destroy the national sovereignty of our country. At the present time, the Democrats are trying, with a league of nations proposition, to destroy the national sovereignty of our country. It seems that the Democratic party ever hankers to destroy the national sovereignty of our country.

Skin Blemishes

How to get rid of them

Skin specialists are tracing fewer and fewer troubles to the blood. They say more often, skin blemishes can be traced to the bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores of the skin with dust, soot and grime. To clear your skin of blemishes caused by this insidious and persistent enemy, use regularly the following special treatment.

Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap; then dry your face. Now dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this soap cream and leave it on for ten minutes. Rinse very carefully with clear, hot water; then with cold.

In addition to this special treatment, use Woodbury's regularly in your daily toilet. This will make your skin firm and active. It will help the new skin to resist the frequent cause of blemishes. Before long your complexion will take on a new clearness and freshness.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

Pig Club Show and Club—On Saturday October 30, the following members of the Morgan county Pig Club will show and sell their pigs on the vacant lot south of the post office. Alfred B. Cox, W. T. Cowdin, Jr., Orval Cox, Wilbur Deatherage, Roal Gibson, Carl Hermes, Alfred Harrison, Harold Hembrough, Clyde Hudson, Everett Hymes, Russell Johnson, Wilbur Kinnett, Ellsworth Marshall, James Mason, Giles McKee, Pagiel McKee, William Neuman, Harold Pearson, Ralph M. Riggs, Riggs Brothers, E. Burton Scott, Allan Woods, James Robert Beavers, Anna Dinwiddie, Eleanor Dinwiddie, Glen Durham, Lenore Pearson, Ivan Putehish, Howard Scott, Cullen B. Sweet, E. LeRoy Sweet, Dwight E. Grene, Clarence F. Nickel. In this exhibit will be 25 Durocs, 14 Poland Chinas and 2 Berkshires. These were furnished the club members by C. L. Hewler, W. T. Cowdin, L. A. Reed, Howard Stevenson, R. Y. Gibson, C. N. Kinnett, Dr. G. H. Kopperl, Wilbur C. Williams, Charles R. Gibson, John Neuman, Bert Way, Austin Patterson, E. J. Sweet and sons; S. Pearson, J. H. Nickel. We hope that every school boy and school girl in the county may have an opportunity to see this show and sale on Saturday.

Farm Bureau Offices Appreciated—A great many visitors call at farm bureau offices here and there and get information, and make themselves at home. The farm bureau has had so much publicity recently that everyone feels that the latch-string hangs out, and calls at the farm bureau office whenever he visits a county seat and sees how things are moving. This phase of public interest has caused farm advisers and farm bureau members to make provisions for good quarters so that visitors may form a favorable impression of the work in the county.

Feeding Poultry is as Important as Culling—A great many poultry raisers seem to think that culling is a panacea for a failure of hens to produce eggs. The fact is that very few farm flocks are properly fed. On many farms chickens are raised about like quails and Chinese peasants. Hens will not lay without they are supplied with plenty of lime and a high protein feed. The most of our farmers are making a mistake in not keeping oyster shell and a dry mash consisting of wheat bran and beet scrap before their hens all the time. If this is done, it will balance the farm feed, oats and corn, prevent the excessive deposits of fat and give the hen material with which to produce eggs. We sincerely believe that the egg production of many of our farm flocks would be doubled if the hens were properly fed.

Duroc Breeders Meet—The Duroc Breeders met in the farm bureau office Friday night, and audited the bills of the recent sale. The members are inclined to think that the recent sale was successful, whenever everything is considered. They are planning to hold a pure bred sow sale in February.

Farm Accounting Schools—In all probability the College of Agriculture will hold brief schools of farm accounting in several counties this fall. The main object of these schools will be to start farmers to using the farm account book devised by the Farm Management Department. We have held such schools before and have distributed farm account books, but somewhere between January and December the work was interrupted, and never finished. In the future we hope to have more follow up work that will assist members in closing their books at the end of the year and in getting ready for the income tax report.

Fruit Marketing—An unusual amount of apples are being marketed in bulk this season. Barrels are unusually high. Some farm bureaus are supplying their members with apples by buying in bulk. We have good reason to suspect that this buying venture is attended with considerable loss. W. S. Brock of the department of agriculture advises strongly against farm bureaus attempting to handle bulk apples.

Announcement of next annual meeting by superintendent.

Adjournment.

The following extract from the Kewanee Star-Courier of Tuesday evening, October 19, will doubtless be of interest to many Jacksonville readers, as Rev. T. H. Marsh was pastor of the First Baptist church here for many years, and is well known to all of the members.

Dr. L. H. Harley Marsh, pastor of the First Baptist church at Deatur, here to attend the annual convention of the Illinois State Baptist Association, delivered an inspiring and entertaining address before the Rotary Club and a large number of guests at the noon day luncheon at the Parkside hotel today. Dr. Marsh lived up to the reputation which had been established for him by his old friend, Rev. L. C. Trent, who had promised a treat in the speaker for today's meeting. Dr. Marsh has the happy gift of humor that permitted him to enliven his remarks with frequent stories and apt illustrations. His audience was frequently in smiles as he developed his line of thought which was upon the subject "Getting Interested."

In opening his remarks he stated

there are just two kinds of folks—the live ones and the dead ones. The live ones are those who are interested in something and the dead ones are those who are not interested. We are all in the selling game, as it were. Everyone of us is trying to put something over, to convince the other fellow. It is a prime necessity that we be interested if we are to succeed. Furthermore we must be interested not simply in things but also in folks. You cannot succeed unless you make folks like you and you cannot make folks like you without first liking them. If you forget everything else I have said, please remember that.

The Casket of Alexander the Great was of beaten gold, so wrought by the hammer as to fit the body. Over the casket was a cover of gold, over which was a purple coat embroidered with gold.

Judging from the prices that others ask for caskets we have almost the right to expect them to be made of beaten gold, but we actually receive far less in return.

The caskets I carry are superior in workmanship to the Casket of Alexander the Great and there is a tremendous difference in the cost.

I save from $50.00 to $150.00 on funeral expenses.

The Chicago & Alton Railroad appeals to its employees and requests the hearty co-operation of shippers in meeting the present transportation situation. The following is a copy of communication addressed to the 10,000 employees of the "Alton."

Chicago & Alton Railroad Co.

TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT

Office of the Vice President

Chicago, Sept. 25, 1920.

FELLOW EMPLOYEES:

The wage question having been determined and the Interstate Commerce Commission having decided upon the necessary increase in rates to meet the increase in wages and other increased costs of operation, the railroads are returning to a more normal basis; but there is a situation still confronting us which we should all understand and which can only be adequately met by a determined effort on the part of each employee to do his part.

Largely because of conditions growing out of the war, the railroads have not been able to keep pace with the growing traffic of the country in the way of necessary additional locomotives, cars and other facilities. Every effort is being made to overcome this deficiency but to do so will take time and the only relief for the present is to obtain the maximum amount of service from the facilities we now have, and this maximum can only be obtained by a strong determination on the part of each individual to put forth every effort to the end that the Alton does its full share to meet the demands of the public for more and better service.

To accomplish this result in the fullest measure, close co-operation of each class of employees and of every individual in each class is necessary.

Train dispatchers and other operating employees who direct the movement of trains and their operation and who always play an important part in the operation of a railroad, can assist at this time by being just a little more vigilant in their efforts to keep freight and passenger trains on schedule; to see that cars reported for movement, both loads and empties, are properly handled, thus securing maximum results from both cars and locomotives.

Station agents and employees generally are in position to be especially helpful by the prompt handling of freight at their stations; by the avoidance of unnecessary delays to passenger trains due to the slow handling of express, baggage, etc.; by reporting promptly for movement both loads and empties, and by showing our patrons a willing and anxious disposition to serve in giving promptly and courteously any information which may be required. They are also in a position to directly deal with and urge the shipper to do his part in the way of maximum car loading and prompt loading and unloading of cars.

Conductors, engineers, yardmen and other train employees come in contact more or less with the public and can do their part by courteous treatment toward the traveling and shipping public, at the same time making every endeavor to give on-time service to both our freight and passenger trains.

Shop and roundhouse employees, by making renewed effort to have our engines and cars repaired a little more promptly and on schedule time. With the present day mounting expenses and shortage of engines and cars, all must realize the seriousness of delays to engines and cars in preparing them for service. Any improvement along this line will promptly be reflected in better service.

Bridge and Building Department, roadway and track employees can be of assistance in their respective lines by renewed efforts to promptly improve the condition of the property, thus enabling us to handle more traffic with on-time service and better please our patrons.

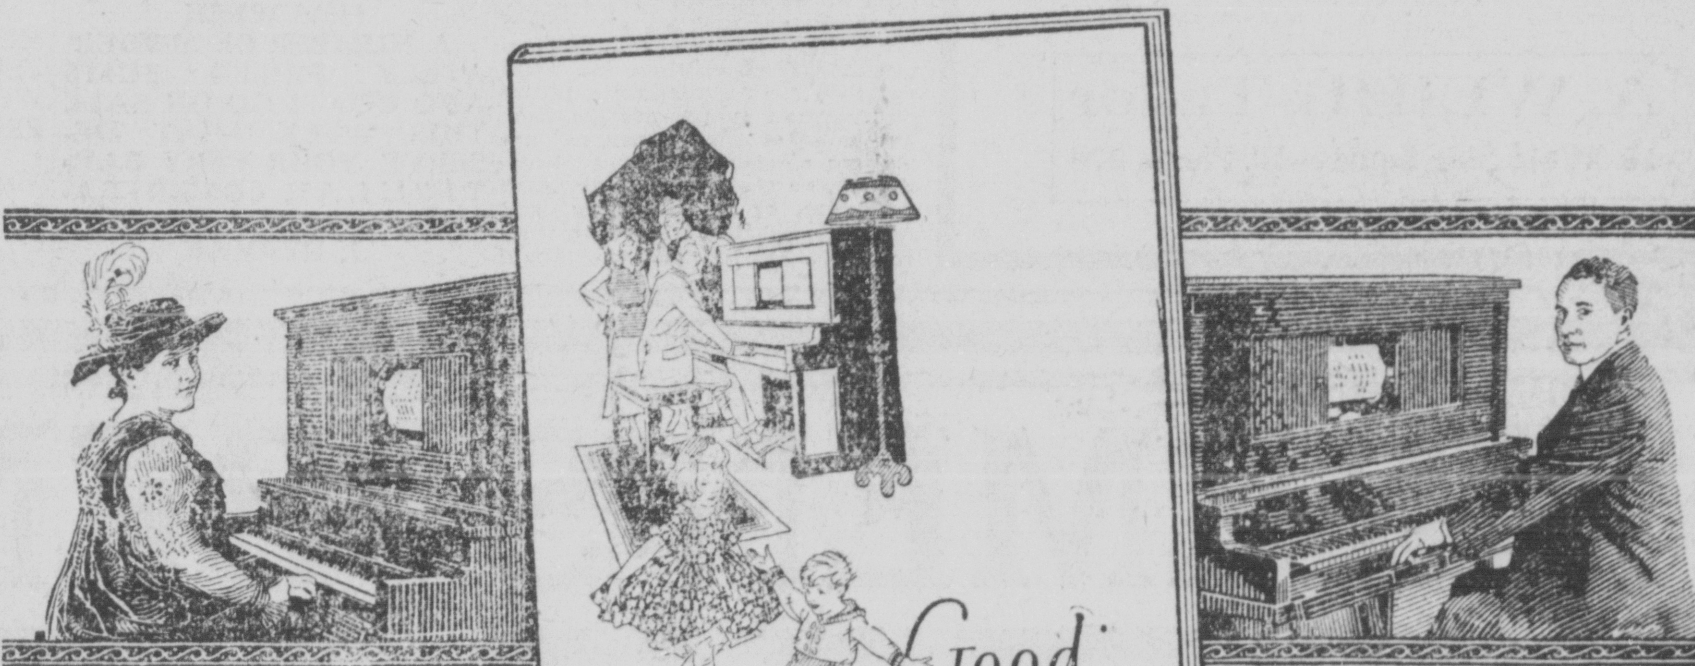

A railroad has but one commodity for sale and that is transportation, and, to satisfy the purchaser, which is the public, we must render the best service possible with all available facilities used to their maximum capacity.

The Alton has a big task before it in meeting the increased demands for transportation and as the Traffic Department can only satisfy its patrons by giving service, I am taking the liberty of appealing—in which appeal all our officers join—to each and all to render his full measure of service, not only because we owe it to ourselves but because we owe it to our patrons who in the end must pay the cost of transportation and who are entitled to our full efforts in meeting the constantly increasing transportation demands made upon us.

Yours truly,

S. G. Leitze

Vice President in Charge of Traffic.

Miss Faulkner's wide knowledge of the appealing in music is here given to player-piano owners for the first time.

John Martin

A successful business man, forced by ill health to retire, whose love of music and personal delight in the Gulbransen Player-Piano led him to the development of the now famous Martin Method of Player-Piano interpretation. Mr. Martin's invaluable work in selecting the rolls most artistically carrying out Miss Faulkner's ideas will be appreciated by every player owner.

We Give This Book to Any Music Lover!

The only book ever published to help you enjoy your player-piano, to show the whole variety of music available. Sent without charge.

If you own a player-piano, or hope to some day, send the coupon now for this remarkable new book. It is not a player-roll catalog; we do not make rolls. It is of greater interest than all roll catalogs combined in one.

It is the first attempt ever made to classify all the music available for the Gulbransen and other player-pianos; to give examples of the most enjoyable music of every kind; to select for each composition the actual roll which is most artistically arranged.

Musically Authoritative

Months of time of musical authorities and Gulbransen player-piano experts were devoted to the preparation of this book. Thousands of rolls have been tested. The whole world of music has been searched for the most enjoyable examples of every kind of music.

Under the editorship of Anne Shaw Faulkner and John Martin it has been made a condensed education in the many forms and varieties of music, a guide to the appreciation of music—always with the average player-piano owner in mind.

Would You Like To Sing?

Or would your wife or daughter if accompaniments were easier to play? Any one can play accompaniments on the Gulbransen.

Thousands of high class songs are ready in player-rolls; words on the roll; no sheet music to buy.

In this great 80 page book these songs are all classified for you—Hawaiian, Southern, Dainty, Old Time, Love, Sacred, Ballads, English, Scotch, Irish, French—are a few of the classifications. Also High, Low and Medium voices. The best examples of each kind are named and roll makers' numbers given to help you buy.

Grand Opera Music

Here is the first list ever compiled of all the opera music available for player-pianos. Nearly every roll with English song words! What an opportunity to really understand the famous operas! And any one can play them.

What are rhythm, melody, harmony in music? What are the great compositions in the Classical, Romantic and Modern Schools of music? What is worth playing in the folk and patriotic songs of all nations? How can you learn to enjoy good music and understand it? All are answered.

This book is a many years' program of musical education—not by reading but by example, the real way to learn. It will make your Gulbransen player-piano one of the big things of your life.

Entertainment Programs

The American authority on program making—Anne Shaw Faulkner—has provided ideas for every occasion. Popular parties such as Church, School, Christmas, Stag and Children's affairs, have specially selected numbers. Women's Club programs for music study are given in detail, even to suggested encores.

The entire book is easy to understand, astonishing in the amount of information given, helpful no matter what kind of music you are seeking, purposely designed to help you find enjoyable music no matter what your taste.

POOLS CONTROLLED SATURDAY'S MARKET

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Pools controlled today's short stock market session concentrating their bullish maneuvers upon a number of special shares, to the comparative neglect of usual favorites.

Such issues as United Fruit, Montant Power, North American, Brooklyn Union, Peoples and La Cede Gas shares, United Railways Preferred and Western Union scored net gains of 2 to 7 1/2 points with minor changes in steels, equipments and rails.

The advance seemed to be based in large part on cables from London which pointed strongly to reduced tension in the British industrial situation.

The bond market including liberties and local tractions was irregular on reduced dealings, international also manifesting a easier trend. Total sales (par value) amounted to $3,450,000. A contraction of $50,233,200 in actual reserves, causing a deficit of almost $24,000,000, the largest of the year, was the feature of the clearing house weekly statement.

Other conspicuous features which reflected the recent extensive shifting of funds included a decrease of $30,843,000 in actual loans and discounts, a decrease of $65,454,000 in reserves of members which the federal reserve and the contraction of about $113,000,000 in net demand deposits.

WHEAT LOWER AT CLOSE OF MARKET

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The big export demand of the past few days and the strength in foreign markets gave grains a good tone at the start today but when the buying power eased off the market broke and at the finish wheat was 1/2 to 3/4 lower, with December $1.99 1/2 to $2.00 and March $1.93 1/2 to $1.93 3/4 corn was 1/4 to 1 cent and oats were unchanged from 30c down to 25c higher.

Early strength in wheat helped corn but selling by large interests soon filled buyers, the market easing rapidly. The close was weak about the low point of the day. Corn industries were said to be either entirely closed or operating only part of the week, this time of the year being unusually an off season for this industry.

Trade in oats futures was very light and the finish which was near the low for the day was practically unchanged from the previous day's close. Aside from covering by shorts in January and a little selling of October provisions were dull.

Vaccinate Your Own Hogs Costs Only 20c to 40c Each

The Fulton County Farm Bureau furnishes Dr. Rea's Government tested serum to its members at cost, which is $5 a bottle of 500 c. c. In that county 800 farmers have already vaccinated their own hogs at a saving of one half to two thirds of their former vaccination bills, all report the best of success, no abscesses or bad results of any kind.

Hundreds of farmers in Rock Island, Mercer, Hancock, Lee and Edgar counties, as well as Fulton county, are doing their own vaccinating with Dr. Rea's Serum, which is furnished to them through their farm bureaus.

R. O. Shields, president of the Brown County Farm Bureau and Harry Jewell, treasurer of the Warren County Farm Bureau, have both vaccinated their own herds with Dr. Rea's serum and recommend it highly. They did the work themselves.

This same government tested serum with the U. S. release label on each bottle is now sold in this county at the address given below for the convenience of those who wish to vaccinate their own hogs or have it done. The price of the serum is $5.50 a bottle of 500 c. c. Virus is one cent c. c. Syringes are sold at cost. The dosage table is on each bottle. Directions are furnished with the serum showing just how the vaccination is done. It is easy; no skill required.

Tires That Cost Less Per Mile

Tires look pretty much alike. All manner of conflicting claims have been made, regarding the quality, guarantee and cost per mile of various brands.

You can readily appreciate the difference between paying $30.00 for a tire that runs 10,000 miles as compared with paying $21.00 each for two tires that average 4,000 to 5,000 miles.

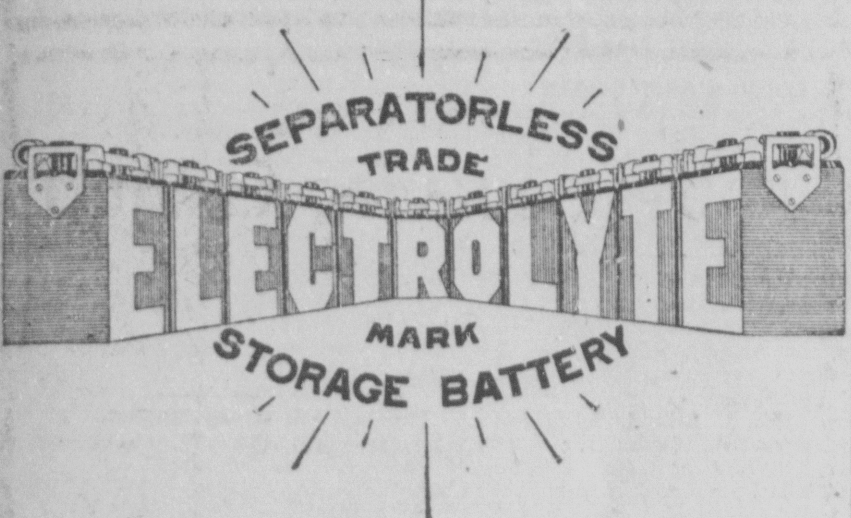

The largest single group of tire buyers are wanting GOOD TIRES—not CHEAP TIRES.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

The first number of the Artists Course will be the recital of Miss Margery Maxwell, which will be given in Music Hall, Friday, October 29, at 8:15 o'clock.

At the Playground benefit held at the Jefferson school Tuesday evening numbers were furnished by students from the College of Music. The soloists were: Bernice Holback, Helen Carpenter and Gladys Chase. Miss Chase and Miss Carpenter also appeared as accompanists.

Mrs. Forest has been appointed director of the choir at Trinity church. Miss Moore furnished a group of solos at the open meeting of the Wednesday Class held at the home of Mrs. Miller Weir Wednesday afternoon. Miss Gladys Chase accompanied Miss Moore.

Mr. Frank Collins, pupil of Mr. Pearson, has been engaged as organist at Westminster church for the coming year.

Saturday morning the first practice recital was given in the children's department under the direction of Miss Melhus. Students in both piano and violin were heard. The numbers presented were studied by the class from the standpoint of musical appreciation in order that the pupils may learn to be intelligent, observant listeners even in the primary grades. Miss Melhus gave a short biography of Bach and closed the hour playing some characteristic selections from his works.

Miss Bernice Holback, accompanied by Miss Gladys Chase, played a solo at the County Teachers' meeting Saturday morning at the David Prince school.

Peoria Man Tortured by Itching Burning Eczema, Finds Relief

Scratched Till Great Sores Covered His Body
—Couldn't Sleep and Not Able to do Much Work.

Took the Root and Herb Remedy Dreco and Declares He is Now Entirely Relieved.

"I had big sores all over my body and itched until I thought I'd go crazy, some nights I'd never close my eyes and the itching, stinging, burning, sensation was beyond description. Only those who have suffered with the terrifying disease know what it is like," said Mr. Sam Avery, employed by the C. R. I. & P. Ry., Peoria, Ill.

"I was bilious and was so light headed and dizzy I could hardly keep on my feet. I was about to give up my job, when I found that wonderful remedy Dreco. I had only taken one and a half bottles when the itching ceased, the sores healed up and I am able to work full time. My bowels move regularly and I have no more dizzy spells. It seems nothing short of miraculous to be rid of that horrible eczema."

Dreco is made from roots and herbs which drive the impurities from the blood thereby overcoming eczema, boils, pimples, liver spots and rheumatism. Dreco cures a lazy liver, overcomes constipation, strengthens weak kidneys and aids the stomach to digest the food properly.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co.—Adv.

Round Oak Heating Stoves

Round Oak heaters produce more heat with less fuel than any other heater we have been able to find. Why? Because the gas ring in fire pot causes the fire to burn from outside in burning all the gas from the fuel which gets away in ordinary heaters. One piece base means also a big saving in fuel because it is air tight. Round Oak Heater as shown, 18" size
